FLEXO SET KES-TAK

APPLICATIONS OF FLEXIBLE METAL HOSES FOR DOMESTIC INSTALLATIONS

Stainless steel flexible metal hoses produced from Austenitic Stainless steel of 300 series which also gives the product hygienic feature.

Flexible metal hoses produced on helical, annular corrugating form that allows the product a sufficient bending feature without any diameter reduction appears.

Mainly on water line piping and mounting time reduces tremendously plus easy to form for any application condition without any extra fitting for any corners just for the inlet and outlet fittings connections.

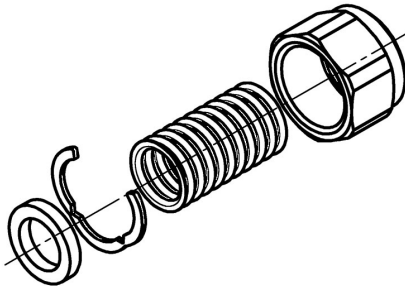

This new product of AYVAZ called as KES-TAK in meaning CUT-INSTALL is the latest technology for domestic water piping systems that reduces the workman time accordingly the cost which saving time is money now. For black piping the lengths shall be very precise and you need a preparation for each straight line and precise calculation for number of fittings plus thread end preparation of piping etc. but with KES-TAK you do not need any preparation and/or pre-calculation and /or extra fittings just take of the hose from the box and cut the hose on required length and put the fittings finally mount the system with in maximum 8-10 minutes. Great save of time plus money.

Beside time saving decorative out looking of KES-TAK which is full stainless steel is easy to form for any system conditions on site.

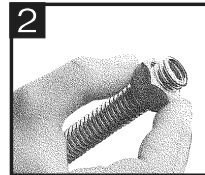

For the application examples as shown on paper around the sides is various types for various sizes.
